JUNIORS DEFEATED SOPHOMORES IN HOTLY CONTESTED CLASS GAME

Probably the best class game since the elimination of varsity men, took place Saturday, February 10th, when the much heavier Junior team made a noise that sounded like 11 to 0 to all Sophomores.

The game was unusually clean, although the Sophomores suffered the loss of Miller and Steele in the early part of the game. The Junior line was simply too heavy for their opponents, and then, every one of them, with the exception of Sistrunk, have had some football experience. The only line men on the Soph team that have ever played before were Booth and Simms. Most Sophs seem to think that the primary cause of their defeat was due to the injuries received by Miller and Steele in the first half, while it was not that at all. The Juniors simply outweighed and out played their opponents and there is no excuse to be made. The Sophs probably would have scored one touchdown had Miller and Steele remained in the game, but they would not have beat the Juniors then. Most of the Juniors gains were made through the line while on the other hand the Sophs gains were made on close bucks and end runs. The stars of the game were Capt. Watkins, who rarely ever failed to tally with good gains, Haggard, Locke, White, Greene and Holly for the Juniors; and Miller, Steele, Paterson, Booth, Hill and Smith for the Sophomores. Both Ellsberry Junior and Ellsberry Sophomore played good ball. Although little Elderberry did not have a chance to do much.

The game in detail is as follows:

Line Up.

Juniors	Position	Sophomores
Burgess	R E	Hill, A. Watkins
Holley	R T	Booth
Greene	R G	Marsh
Sistrunk	C	Simms
Locke	L G	Sommerville
Haggard	L T	Streit
Gresham	LE	Paterson
White	Q B	Smith "Red"
Ellsberry, Jones	L H B	Miller (Cap), Hill
Goek	F B	Riddle
Watkins (Cap.)	R H B	Steele and Ellsberry

Time of halves 20 and 15 minutes.

Officials, Lacey E. P., Referee; Hill W., Umpire, McEldery, H. F., head linesman; Timekeepers Denson and Davis.

Miller wins the toss, choosing to defend the east goal and to receive the kickoff. The game starts at 3 o'clock and Watkins boots the skin 35 yards into Sophomore territory to Steele, who makes a return of 10 yds.; Booth is pulled back and Steele gets 2 yds. on cross buck, Miller takes 3 yds. around the other end, and Booth gets 2. Steele fails to gain on next play and Miller is thrown for a loss of 2 yards. Miller punts from 30 yards to Watkins, who fumbles, the Sophomores getting the ball. Steele goes around end for 3 yards, Miller gets 4, Steele fails to gain, Miller chips off two more and then punts 30 yds. to Watkins, who is downed in his tracks by the Soph ends. Watkins gains 1-2 yard and Greene takes 3, Watkins wades through for 7 and goes again for 3, Greene makes it first down and then fails to gain. York gets 2 yds. and Watkins punts 25 yds. to Smith who makes no return. On this punt a Junior is offside and the ball is given to the Sophomores with a penalty of ten yds. Miller gets 1 yd. and Hill 2, Miller fails to gain on 3rd down and the Juniors take the ball on downs. Ellsberry fails to gain and on the play is tackled by Steele who is hurt and leaves the game. Haggard gets six yds. through the line and repeats for 1 more. Ellsberry gets 10 yds. on a cross buck, and Haggard makes 7; Ellsberry gets 1 yd. but the Juniors are offside and are penalized 5 yds. Watkins gains 3 yds., York gets 1 and on the next play, as the Juniors fail to make the required distance the Sophomores take the ball. Hill gains 1-2 a yd., but Miller fumbles on the next play, Holley falling on the ball. Haggard gains 8 yds. Miller has to leave the game on account of a sprained ankle which he received in the early part of the game. Ellsberry takes his place at left half. Junior Ellsberry gets 2 yds. and Haggard makes it first down. Green is pulled back and charges through for 7 yds. Watkins gets 3, and Greene carries the ball over the line for the first touchdown after 18 minutes of play—In kicking the goal Watkins touches the ball and before he has a chance to kick it Smith blocks the try.

The Sophomores decide to receive the ball and Watkins kicks 35 yds. to Ellsberry who runs it back 10, Hill gets 1 yd and Ellsberry gets 3 1-2, on next play Hill fails to make 1st down and it is the Junior's ball on downs.

Watkins goes 10 yds on cross buck, Ellsberry loses 1 yd and then gains 4, Haggard gains 8 yds. and then 4. Time is called for the end of the first half with the ball on the Sophomore's 15 yard line.

Second Half.

The teams change goals and Smith kicks 40 yds to Watkins who makes a good return of 15 yards. Watkins gets 2 yds. and Greene makes first down, Watkins gets 2 1-2 and Greene gets 5 yds, Ellsberry fails to gain over Paterson, Haggard gets 4 and then makes first down. Ellsberry makes 3 yds and then repeats for 1, Haggard makes first down and then gets 2 1-2. White fumbles but recovers, Greene gets first down, Watkins gets 3 yds. and then repeats for 2, Ellsberry

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

Last Saturday evening the members of the Y. M. C. A., and their young lady friends were delightfully entertained by the Ladies' Auxilliary. The guests gathered in the assembly hall of the Y. M. C. A., building, where the sweet strains of music blended with hearty words of welcome. After the crowd had gathered the game of the evening was announced. The couples marched into the reception room where they were made acquainted with the Art Loan Exhibit. This was a guessing game of great interest and was the source of much pleasure. When the answers were read several prided themselves that they had guessed all correctly. After the game the guests returned to the assembly hall where music and singing occupied their attention until refreshments were announced.

In the dining room were small tables set for four where the little misses of Auburn served the guests with delicious hot chocolate and cake. The guests all expressed themselves as having a delightful time and the boys are indeed indebted to the ladies for such an enjoyable occasion, and have adopted this means of expressing their sincere and heartfelt thanks.

ry gets 6 yds and York 3, York rips off 5 yds. and Watkins 4, York makes it first down. Haggard tears off 6 yds. and places the ball on the 2 yd line. Haggard fails to gain, but on the next try gets 1 yd. York, the "old steady" goes over for the second and last touchdown of the game. Watkins kicks a pretty goal. Score Juniors 11, Sophs 0. It took ten minutes actual play to make this touchdown.

Watkins kicks 40 yds. to Little Ellsberry who makes the prettiest return of the game, running it back 20 yds. Hill loses a yd. and punts 20 yds. There is no return, Junior's ball first down, Jones takes Ellsberry's place at left half. Jones gains 3 yds. and York gains 3, Jones fails to gain, Watkins gets 1 1-2 and York failed to make first down. Sophs ball Hill gains 2 yds. and Ellsberry is thrown for a loss of 2 yds. Hill attempts to punt but is blocked and the Juniors get the ball. York blocked the kick in good style. Jones is thrown for a loss of 2 yds. by Paterson. For the first time during the game Locke is pulled back and simply tears the Soph line open for a gain of 10 yds. Jones is thrown for a loss of 1 yd. by Paterson. Locke gains 5 yds. and then is called for the end of the game.

Score Juniors 11, Sophs 0.

TECH DEFEATED IN ATLANTA BY GOOD WORK OF AUBURN TEAM

Saturday night Auburn and Tech met in the first intercollegiate game played in Atlanta. Auburn seemingly tired after the Mercer game and unused to the floor played a slow and listless game during the first half. There was little, if any, attempt at team work. The shooting during this half was not up to the usual standard, although the lightness of the standards on which the baskets were placed had a good deal to do with it. In the second half Auburn improved decidedly. There was more team work and the players moved around faster. Guarding was good so that Tech did not score a single point in this half, and in fact got very few chances. Ware, Woodruff and Jones worked better together. Whitaker, too, did considerable floor work.

During the game Auburn had considerable hard luck in throwing baskets, sending the ball around the rim time and time again without scoring. Tech fought hard but were completely outclassed when Auburn woke up. Their best man was Baker, who scored their only two field goals by clever shots. Wert was superior to Jones in throwing fouls, managing to send two through the net.

The floor, which is used for skating was very slippery so that the players did not move around as fast as they would have done if their footing was surer. The out-of-bounds too, were very large, which caused considerable time to be lost in bringing the ball back into play.

The Tech students were out in force and supported their team by yelling and cheering. Auburn, too, had a band of rooters that was not to be outdone. On the whole it was a very favorable beginning for inter-collegiate basketball.

Game in detail:

First Half.

Jones jumps Wert with ease but to no advantage, for the game goes slow for sometime and Whitaker makes a foul. Wert tries a goal from foul but misses. After two or three passes Tech fouls and Jones has try for goal, but fails to make good, Tech students are yelling and in the judgment of the referee interfering with the game, so Jones has another try, failing again. Tech men still yell and referee announces that Auburn shall try for goal till noise ceases. This results in quietness and Jones tries again but misses. Ball is in play again and Ware makes first goal after five minutes slow playing by both teams. After several seconds play Whitaker fouls and Wert throws the first goal from foul. Ball in play and Woodruff fouls, Wert making another goal from foul. Score then, 2 to 2, and the Tech men do some yelling. Then Jones makes goal from foul and Woodruff fouls, but Wert misses his fourth try for goal. Ball in play and Baker, of Tech, makes sensational goal from the field. Lafitte makes foul and Jones misses goal. Woodruff makes easy goal from field while Tech quietly dozes. Jones slips in a neat one for Auburn, while Baker follows with the same for Tech. Ball is tossed and after short while Ware shoots and scores fine goal from field, Woodruff doing same while Tech takes another nap. Time is up for first half. Score 12 to 6 in favor of Auburn.

Second Half.

Same men go in for second half, and play slow for a while. Finally Woodruff makes a beautiful goal from field and a double foul is called on Ware and Sutcliffe, Jones and Wert both miss goals from foul. Ball is tossed again and Tech fouls Jones missing goal from foul. After several passes Woodruff shoots and scores beautiful goal. Lafitte makes a foul and Jones misses try for goal, but immediately makes a pretty field goal. Lafitte fouls again and again Jones misses goal. Ball goes out of bounds several times and Ware gets sensational field goal, which he follows with another of the same kind. Ball is tossed out of bounds several times, and Lacey fouls, Wert misses goal from foul. Jones shoots and scores beautiful goal, Woodruff duplicating the trick, Lacey fouls again and again Wert misses try for goal, and Auburn is showing better form, but just here time is called. Score 26 to 6 in Auburn's favor.

CLASS DAY.

Following custom, Feb. 22, in addition to being celebrated as George Washington's birthday, will be celebrated as Senior Class Day. It will be a holiday for everybody and in the morning at 10 o'clock we will assemble in Langdon Hall and listen to the historian as he recounts the worthy deeds of '06, to the orator, as he in silver tongued notes discourses upon a subject in keeping with '06, and finally to the prophet as he reveals to us the illustrious future of his illustrious class.

This day is always one in which a senior takes pride and in which he delights, for it is his, and he and his fellows are the real "big chiefs."

In the afternoon the championship football game takes place, and in the evening the Literary Society orations are delivered in Langdon Hall.

The support that the basket ball team is receiving is certainly expressive of "Auburn spirit." This was especially notable last Friday night in the game with Mercer, when the attendance was splendid, in spite of the fact that the Bostonia Sextette Club had played to a well filled house in the afternoon, and in spite of the fact that a muchly advertised comedy company was carrying out its program at the same time that the game was in progress.

But our team deserves support, with only one defeat, and that a questionable one, recorded against it this season, it has played six games, defeating Tulane, Montgomery, Atlanta, Mercer and Georgia Tech. If we keep up this there's no reason why we should not be the champions of the south.

Before another issue of the Orange and Blue second term exams will have begun and probably some of us will be on the rack.

Fellows, prepare for exams, the only way is to prepare each lesson, then when the books are balanced, you will be safe.

A track meet has been arranged with Georgia to be held in Athens the latter part of April and it is probable that one other like event will be arranged.

This is an important branch of athletics, probably, and is meeting with increased popularity. In the event of the abolition of football the time may come when track sports will be one of two principal intercollegiate contests and it is well to be ready.

The social events in connection with Class Day will be the Junior German on Wednesday night, the senior German on Thursday night, the T. N. E. hop on Friday night and the Senior banquet on Saturday night at the Royal in Opelika.

Baseball practice begins today. Everybody who has ever worked at baseball should go out and help. We must have a good team, and perhaps you, the "rat", can be a part of it. Everybody help.

The Juniors defeated the Sophmores and now the Freshmen and Juniors will fight for the championship on Feb. 22. Luck to the winner.

Latest beverage for athletes: The Lacy Jones highball. For further information see Frank Jones.

MUSICAL RECITAL IN LANGDON HALL.

(Given under the auspices of the Auburn Lyceum Course Committee.)

The celebrated Bostonia Sextette Club gave a musical recital at Langdon hall on the afternoon of Saturday, February 16th.

The concert had been postponed from the preceeding evening on account of the unavoidable delay in the arrival of the club, yet the attendance was unusually good.

Assisting the Sextette was Miss Carolyn White. Her highly cultivated soprano was much applauded by the audience. The program given at this recital received the general praise of all and was much enjoyed because of its exquisite merit.

To attempt an analysis of the sensations mingled with the genuine enjoyment of this entertainment would indeed be an impossible task.

Less difficult, however, is the task of reviewing these in their relation to the universal favor of music in a manner more abstract and general.

In the selections on the program lay the dreams of famous masters whose inspirations are now revealed in classic composition.

Through the skill of the performers these inspirations awoke in the utterance of aesthetic beauty and their echo of full throated melody was lasting and pleasant.

Each chorded strain invaded the listening ear and thrilled the very being as the soul responded to the wondrous whispering power.

An influence ran in the harmony of notes that transported life in all its sweetness into a distant and sacred sphere.

In such harmony rapture might eternally exist supported alone by human skill. At such a moment the birds of the woods might forget to sing or an inversion of seasons hush nature's murmuring voice while the world rang indifference to the harrowing silence.

There is not a passion nor is there an impulse, over which music does not proclaim its power.

Who can resist the violin in thought and emotions? Who can evade its wonderful and subtle power? To those present at the concert Saturday afternoon these questions are not lost in significance. The instrument was then irresistible in its appeal to understanding taste and feeling and its influence settled upon everyone.

Thus was the whole program sustained in rhythm and pulsating harmony while in it breathed the power of music strong in the strength of all its qualities.

First Baseball Game on Campus.

The first baseball game of the season was played on the campus Saturday afternoon before an enthusiastic crowd of over a thousand spectators. The opposing teams were the Independents and the Scrubs. The Independents were ably captained by the great all round athlete "Red" McElhany and managed by their invincible twirler Phil Lacey. The bunch of boofers composing the other team possessed no officers except Rusty Miller who was umpire, captain, coach and manager. In spite of the efforts of the umpire the heavy hitting Independents could not be headed and the final score was 11 to 6 in their favor. The Independent team is fully organized and is open to challenges from any team who presents any results.

CLASS DAY.

Following custom, Feb. 22, in addition to being celebrated as George Washington's birthday, will be celebrated as Senior Class Day. It will be a holiday for everybody and in the morning at 10 o'clock we will assemble in Langdon Hall and listen to the historian as he recounts the worthy deeds of '06, to the orator, as he in silver tongued notes discourses upon a subject in keeping with '06, and finally to the prophet as he reveals to us the illustrious future of his illustrious class.

This day is always one in which a senior takes pride and in which he looks for it is his, and he and his fellows are the real "big chiefs."

In the afternoon the championship football game takes place, and in the evening the Literary Society orations are delivered in Langdon Hall.

The support that the basket ball team is receiving is certainly expressive of "Auburn spirit." This was especially notable last Friday night in the game with Mercer, when the attendance was splendid, in spite of the fact that the Bostonia Sextette Club had played to a well filled house in the afternoon, and in spite of the fact that a much advertised comedy company was carrying out its program at the same time that the game was in progress.

But our team deserves support, with only one defeat, and that a questionable one, recorded against it this season, it has played six games, defeating Tulane, Montgomery, Atlanta, Mercer and Georgia Tech. If we keep up this there's no reason why we should not be the champions of the south.

Before another issue of the Orange and Blue second term exams will have begun and probably some of us will be on the rack.

Fellows, prepare for exams, the only way is to prepare each lesson, then when the books are balanced, you will be safe.

A track meet has been arranged with Georgia to be held in Athens the latter part of April and it is probable that one other like event will be arranged.

This is an important branch of athletics, probably, and is meeting with increased popularity. In the event of the abolition of football the time may come when track sports will be one of two principal intercollegiate contests and it is well to be ready.

The social events in connection with Class Day will be the Junior German on Wednesday night, the senior German on Thursday night, the T. N. E. hop on Friday night and the Senior banquet on Saturday night at the Royal in Opelika.

Baseball practice begins today. Everybody who has ever worked at baseball should go out and help. We must have a good team, and perhaps you, the "rat", can be a part of it. Everybody help.

The Juniors defeated the Sophmores and now the Freshmen and Juniors will fight for the championship on Feb. 22. Luck to the winner.

Latest beverage for athletes; the Lacey Jones highball. For further information see Frank Jones.

MUSICAL RECITAL IN LANGDON HALL.

(Given under the auspices of the Auburn Lyceum Course Committee.)

The celebrated Bostonia Sextette Club gave a musical recital at Langdon hall on the afternoon of Saturday, February 16th.

The concert had been postponed from the preceeding evening on account of the unavoidable delay in the arrival of the club, yet the attendance was unusually good.

Assisting the Sextette was Miss Carolyn White. Her highly cultivated soprano was much applauded by the audience. The program given at this recital received the general praise of all and was much enjoyed because of its exquisite merit.

To attempt an analysis of the sensations mingled with the genuine enjoyment of this entertainment would indeed be an impossible task.

Less difficult, however, is the task of reviewing these in their relation to the universal favor of music in a manner more abstract and general.

In the selections on the program lay the dreams of famous masters, whose inspirations are now revealed in classic composition.

Through the skill of the performers these inspirations awoke in the utterance of aesthetic beauty and their echo of full throated melody was lasting and pleasant.

Each chorded strain invaded the listening ear and thrilled the very being as the soul responded to the wondrous whispering power

An inuence ran in the harmony of notes that transported life in all its sweetness into a distant and sacred sphere.

In such harmony rapture might eternally exist supported alone by human skill. At such a moment the birds of the woods might forget to sing or an inversion of seasons hush nature's murmuring voice while the world rang indifference to the harrowing silence.

MISS DILLARD ENTERTAINS.

Miss Louie Dillard entertained the younger set on the 14th at a Valentine party.

The couples were:

Mr. Esslinger, Miss Edna Street.
Mr. Lou Beasley, Miss Florence Cornell.
Mr. John B. Steadham, Miss Miriam Burton.
Mr. R. C. Williams, Miss Madge Averyt.
Mr. Charlie Cornell, Miss Otis Thach.
Mr. Frank Rutledge, Miss Lucy Little.
Mr. Ambrose Harwell, Miss Annie Averyt.
Mr. Robert Shi, Miss Louie Dillard.

The idea of the day was carried out in the beautiful decorations in which a profusion of hearts appeared.

Bid dominos was played, the score cards being hearts. Half hearts were drawn and matched for seats at the table where the delicious viands were heartily enjoyed.

Miss Edna Street was the guest of honor.

P. B. Harrell, Jr., '06, spent last week in Selma, where he was called on account of the illness of his mother.

Cecil Gilchrist, G. E. Hicks, C. R. Jones, R. R. Wright and W. W. Peoples, all of '06 Pharmacy class, went to Birmingham and stood the Alabama State Board examination on the 14th.

Certain, Hale and Frazer were walking down the street when "Sis"

Bunker passing said: "Good evening gentlemen—Hello Hale."

The marriage of Cadet W. M. Dean, of Alexander City, and Miss Fincher, of Auburn Saturday afternoon, Feb. 10, was the greatest surprise of the season. However, this seemingly strange occurrence is easily explained. Cupid arrived at the heart of one of the bachelor professors but the arrow missed the mark and struck a student.

On Friday the 9th, inst, a delightful evening was spent at the charming home of Mrs. A. L. Dillard by a gay party of young people. The gentlemen of the party were Profs. and Posts, and it might be presumed that the talk of the evening would have been wise as well as witty, but not so; they laughed and joked and flirted, even as you and I, oh, comrades of the grey.

Guerry & Pool—Have received their Spring line of Ed V. Price & Co.'s samples. Be sure and see them before ordering your Spring suit. Can order suit at any time.

The Bostonian Sextette Club which was booked for Thursday night the 15th inst., was postponed on account of the failure of the train to arrive, so a matinee was given on Friday at 3 o'clock.

This is the best number in the Lyceum courses so far, and Auburn is to be congratulated upon securing it, after the fates had been so unpropitious.

The Y. M. C. A., reception on Saturday evening, 17th inst., under the auspices of the Ladies Auxilliary was a brilliant success.

Cake and hot chocolate refreshed the minds of the "art students" after their arduous labor. Miss Mary Drake delighted all hearers with her entrancing music.

About one hundred guests were present and when the "Art Exhibition" opened the scene was truly animating. After a most enjoyable hour of guessing and "cribbing" the objects were all catalogued, and all stiffness and bashfulness had disappeared.

At a late hour some guests still lingered as if loath to leave the enchanted spot, but finally, with many sincere expressions of enjoyment, the last adieux were said, and all went home to think of the Y. M. C. A., reception as a period of unalloyed happiness.

LAURANT THE MAGICIAN.

Monday night, an immense crowd gathered in Langdon hall, in spite of the fact that it was a school night and those present were richly rewarded by being permitted to view a wonderful series of magic feats.

There were too many of these to mention any but they were all inexplicable and mysterious. The magician was ably assisted by Fred Gelbel and Rat Fort and these two gave promise of becoming greater than Laurant, Hurd or Hermann. In addition to his magical qualities Mr. Laurant is something of a wit and his sallies were highly enjoyed.

The climax was reached in his Hindoo priest act. There was not a man or woman in the house but what was dazzled with surprise when, though we were apparently watching him upon the stage, he walked in from the back door. It was a great entertainment and we offer our heartiest thanks to the Lyceum course for sending him here.

MERCER UNIVERSITY SWAMPED.

On Friday night, Feb. 16th, the Mercer University basket ball team met a severe drubbing by our team in the Gym. Those that missed the game should be sorry, and those who saw it was able to perceive what the Auburn Five can do when they want to. Mercer was played off her feet but they were a plucky set of young men and fought it to the last ditch like true "Georgia Crackers." Though they were overwhelmed by the playing of Auburn, they never once let up, and seemed to have that "Yale bulldog tenacity" of fighting things out to the end. It must be remembered that Coach Hyatt, "Mike's" bosom friend, started the season with almost totally raw material. For his results we congratulate him. Mr. Hyatt is of Yale, and played center and was captain of his team all last season. He knows the game from start to finish and we wish him good luck with Mercer.

The result of the game shows the superiority of Coach Donahue's bunch over the other teams of the south. For this we owe much to our coach and his efforts in turning out a championship team.

It is hard to pick out the stars of the game for everybody was for Auburn and every member of our team played for Auburn alone. We can easily see the result of good team work and the true Auburn spirit of "Everybody for Auburn." Every man on the team played a star game. Our captain at center had a cinch. It seemed like taking money from a sick child. Lacey and Whitaker at guards held their men down in grand style, while Ware and Woodruff at forwards never let up the scoring and put the ball in the basket whenever they desired. Beautiful team work was displayed throughout the game. Talk about signal work, but if Jones Ware and Woodruff didn't work them to a finish the whole thing's a joke. Our great forward, Ware, was in bed sick most of the day and should he have been well it is impossible to guess at the score.

The game seemed so easy that Coach Donahue put in four substitutes near the end and they did themselves glory by keeping the ball rolling. For scoring honors, Jones and Woodruff tie for the highest with nine field goals to each one's credit. Ware follows right behind with eight, Gibson got three, "Kink" Moore slipped one in, and Hall made a goal for the scrubs in last eight minutes.

Following are the details of the drubbing operation. Mercer leads off with a field goal by Popper, a former Auburnite, in about a minute of play. This caused the Auburn tigers to growl and to get busy with the ball. Ware started the fun with a side step and field goal. Woodruff hurries up a little by making two successive goals in short order. Jones follows suit with a pair more. It was all off with Mercer now. The fun was fast and furious. Woodruff chucks another one for Auburn. Whitaker gets ambitious and makes a foul. Popper misses try for foul goal. Jones rings the basket right away. Whitaker takes a short sprint with the ball and a foul is called on him. Popper again misses. Woodruff gets into notice by making a pair of field goals in rapid order. Ware goes one better by making three field goals in three order. Jones puts in two more and Ware makes another two in good style. Woodruff gives the first half a finishing touch by making a beauty. Score 36 to 2 in favor of Auburn.

Second Half.

Mercer puts in a new man, while Auburn sends in the same five to finish up.

Jones fouls almost instantly but Popper misses goal from foul. Coach Donohue works his whistle for a while. Woodruff fouls. Popper "pops" out. Woodruff makes a good clean goal. Woodruff again. Jones comes along with another one. Foul on Woodruff. Popper does put on in from foul. Jones makes field goal for fun. Ware does same trick. Hall, Gibson, Hardie and Moore go in for Auburn. Hall fouls, Popper misses. Jones scores a goal. Comer, of Mercer makes a goal from field. Gibson takes it into his hands and makes one. Foul on Gibson. Popper misses. Gibson gets a pair field goals. Popper makes field goal. More retaliates with one for Auburn. Jones gets another pair of goals. Gibson fouls. Popper misses. Too bad! Popper ends the game by making a pretty goal for Mercer. Moore makes a pretty goal just as the whistle sounds for the end of the slaughter but it is not counted.

Score finally announced Auburn 62, Mercer 8, Coaches Haytt and Donohue are to be congratulated upon their efforts to secure a good clean game of ball and not one bad incident mars the history of the game in all its details.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The annual tennis tournament begins next week, and those desiring to participate should see either President Long or Treasurer Hood, pay up their dues and be duly enrolled as members of the Tennis Club. The doubles will be held at once and if possible will be finished before Second Term examinations, while the singles will come off immediately after them.

Last year the tournament was not completed in time to get the results in the Glomerata. This year all material for the Glomerata must be in on or before March 31, and we will have to hurry to get through by this time. Hence the early start.

And in addition to this the track team will take a trip or two this year and a tennis team may accompany them.

This team, will of course be composed of the men who win in doubles and singles in the tournament, and we believe, if any student is uncommitted, that we can get a good team.
